Presentation by Courtney Reich on Risk-based Management in Chatham Co
Decide on topic and date for Septic Think Tank Meeting

Minutes May 5

Baker and Camden Co have submitted updates for both the survey and the comparison chart. Merrill spoke with Jacob Oakley (Charlton) and Pat Godwin (Nassau) and both agreed with updates but said they would look over documents and submit changed if they found any.

Courtney Reich discussed the Risk-based system under discussion in Chatham Co. She said that the system has the full backing of the state of Georgia and has been tried in numerous other states. She said the system was first proposed in the state by Katie Sheehan in her online guidebook Decentralized Wastewater Management: A Guidebook for Georgia Communities.

We decided to ask Katie Sheehan to present information on Risk-based Management System on July 8 the day after her scheduled talk about her guidebook to SMRMC on July 7.
